

CHAMPION GENE TUNNEY WILL TRAIN AT CEDAR CREST CLUB FOR TITLE BOUT WITH DEMPSEY

Gene, Gibson and Staff
Will Arrive Here
September 1.

KING OF HEAVIES WILL GOLF AT LOCAL CLUBS

Gene Tunney, world's champion heavyweight boxer, will train at Cedar Crest, near Antioch, for his title bout with former champion Jack Dempsey at Soldier Field, Chicago, September 22.

The champion, with his manager, Billy Gibson, and his staff of sparring partners, secretaries and other camp attaches will arrive at Cedar Crest on September 1, or possibly a day or two earlier, according to announcement made yesterday by Geo. H. Hales, manager of Cedar Crest lodge, following a telephone conference with Gibson in New York City.

Cedar Crest Country Club is located just off 59, three and a half miles south of Antioch at what was formerly known as the Dering estate. Manager Gibson pronounced it almost ideal as a location and expressed himself as being well pleased. The grounds consist of 250 acres located between Fox and Petite Lakes and afford an abundance of open and wooded land. The Chain O'Lakes country club golf course has been placed at the disposal of the champion, according to directors of the club which is located near the training quarters. The course has been put in wonderful condition and the club has been decorated in Tunney's honor. Club members have agreed not to use the course while the champion is practicing his shots and puts. Tunney will also have access to the Fox Lake and Channel Lake courses during his twenty day stay here.

Will Occupy Club House

The club house, which will house the champ and his manager, trainers and other attendants, is located on a hill overlooking both lakes, was formerly the Dering home. It consists of seventeen rooms and the large ball room. The cottages on the estate will be prepared for the use of telegraph operators, newspaper men, etc.

H. L. Brown and George F. Hales, managers of the Cedar Crest Lodge, are working night and day to get the place in shape and it is assured that all will be in readiness to receive the champion when he arrives Sept. 1.

Fifteen in Tunney Party

Tunney's personal party will include about 15. In addition there will be about fifty telegraph operators, newspaper men, etc. Fifty special wires will be run to Cedar Crest in order to take care of the wire news that will be sent out about Tunney and what he is doing. In all preparations are being made to lodge about 125 or 130 people on the grounds.

Tunney and his immediate party will be entertained and cared for by the Cedar Crest promoters without any cost.

Lehmann, Cermak "Sell" Location
The site was chosen by manager Gibson, after sharp competition on the part of many of the resorts, country clubs and private homes on the north shore and lake country whose owners were anxious to turn them over to the champ for his use. A. J. Cermak, president of the Cook County board and Otto J. Lehmann, who maintains a summer home on Fox Lake, played the major roles in "selling" the location to Gibson.

Ring to Be Erected

Residents of the entire section are elated over securing the Tunney training camp because of the advertising it will give to the lake region. Preparations are being made to welcome Champ Tunney and his retinue and the resort owners are making preparations to care for the large number of newspaper men and other visitors who will be attracted to the locality during the training period.

Steps are being taken to build a real ring near the riding pavilion of Cedar Crest and it is there that Tunney will do all of his boxing. The gymnasium proper will be established in the pavilion and steps are being taken now to install a series of shower baths in the building.

No Charge to See Gene Box

The ring arrived from Chicago yesterday, and arrangements are being made for the erection of about ten thousand circus seats for the great crowds that are expected to want to see the champion wallop his sparring partners. There will be no charge, Gibson stated, to see Gene in his daily workouts at the arena, but admission to the club grounds proper where the champion will live, will be by pass only.

$3,000,000 Gate Expected

In the meantime ticket sales in Chicago, if present indications are correct, will exceed any similar sale ever made. Manager Rickard has prepared 161,000 tickets for sale and the gigantic stadium will be platted to the farthest corners and tickets ranging in value from the ring side seats which will be offered at $40 down to $5.00 for the most distant seats are to be offered. Headquarters for ticket sales have been established at 12 W. Washington St., Chicago, and a vast number of requests are on hand for tickets. Disposal of the entire 161,000 would mean a gate in excess of $3,000,000, the largest amount ever paid to witness a championship bout.

MISS ANTIOCH WILL REPRESENT REGION IN COUNTY CONTEST

Winner To Get $50 Prize and Chance to Compete for Higher Honors.

Whether or not you have ever witnessed a bathing beauty contest you will not want to fail to attend the opening night on Friday at the Antioch Palace. The committee in charge of the entries have six signed applications and many more have promised to enter the lists of beauties before Friday night.

It is anticipated that the festival will be the biggest thing of its sort ever put over in the community. Three valuable prizes are to be awarded to the winners of the local contest. The girl who wins the second prize is to be given a completely equipped traveling case and the girl who is chosen as third will be awarded a beautiful hand bag. To the fortunate debutante who is chosen as Miss Antioch $50 in cash will be given and she will be presented to the Waukegan contest as the choice of this community to represent the lake region at the contest in Chicago, with the alluring possibilities of being chosen as Miss Chicago and given a contract in the movies as the ultimate goal.

Any assistance given in their big festival will help the local post in their effort to swell their building fund.

ANTIOCH WILL SET CLOCKS BACK ON SEPTEMBER SIXTH

Change is Made to Take Effect on Opening Day of School.

Antioch will go back to standard time at 2 a. m. Tuesday, September 6th. This was made possible by an amendment to the ordinance made at the last meeting of the Village Board. This action was taken because of the fact that both the grade school and the high school open on that day. Both schools have many students from the country to whom the change in time proved a serious inconvenience.

United Chautauqua Closes Successful Entertainment Here

One of the most exceptional performances ever witnessed from a local platform was given Tuesday evening at the Chautauqua, when Miss Vida Palmer, of Antioch, substituting on an hour's notice, played one of the leading roles in the comedy, "The Whole Town's Talking" with great success. Late in the day one of the actors was rushed to the hospital in Chicago for an emergency operation and the management was forced to find some one to read the lines since it was too late to obtain another number. Miss Palmer, though she had never rehearsed with the cast and had had the manuscript but a short time, read the part with skill and assurance and gave an interpretation which gained the approbation of the entire audience. So well pleased was the management with her work that she was urged to go with them the following day to Davis, Ill., an invitation which she declined.

The play itself was all that the management had claimed for it, a clever and enjoyable comedy.

The Chautauqua opened Monday evening with Panhaskia's Society Circus, an exceptionally fine bird and small animal circus. The trained birds, particularly, attracted the interest of the spectators and the entire performance was especially interesting to the juvenile section of the audience.

On Tuesday afternoon the Harmony Trio gave the musical entertainment and Mrs. Taylor Z. Marshall lectured on "The High Cost of Ignorance."

"Smiling Bob Briggs," the Gerhard Sisters, musical entertainers, and Homer H. Hulbert provided both the afternoon and evening programs Wednesday. Mr. Hulbert spoke in the afternoon on "A Yankee in the Far East" and in the evening on "When East Meets West."

This afternoon's program is to be furnished by Frank Coad, play recitalist, and the Rocky Mountain Trio; and the evening program will be concluded by the presentation of the three-act comedy, "Daddy Long Legs."

The attendance this year both afternoon and evening has been light and the committee reports that this year's Chautauqua has not been a success financially.

STATE DEPT. ORDERS GAPS IN ROUTE 59 PAVED THIS YEAR

Business Club Secures Immediate Completion of Highway.

Three of the four gaps in the new paving on Route 59 leading into Antioch are to be paved at once. This action was secured through the efforts of the Antioch Business Club. In communication with State Supt. of Design H. E. Cerman, the representatives of the club called attention to the fact that the gaps had been properly filled and puddled and were now ready for paving. It was pointed out that failure to pave them this year would work a hardship on the people of the community and result in inconvenience to travelers.

The assistance of Chief Engineer Lamb and of R. M. Lobdell, County Superintendent of highways, was also enlisted by the local committee.

As a result of the action taken, the contractors were instructed by the state department to pave all of the gaps with the exception of the last one which lies between the Harden and Naber farm. This will allow the public to travel over Route 59 as far as Harden's and come over the old road bed of Harden avenue into Antioch.

FIRE DEPT. ANSWERS FIRE CALL AT LAKE

The fire department was called to Channel Lake this afternoon where they succeeded in putting out a grass fire in Wood Crest subdivision before the flames could do any damage.

HARMONY IN FOX DAM PROJECT IS PLEGGED BY ALL

Lakes and River Residents
Will Unite to Obtain
Water Levels.

Concerted and harmonious action on the part of all property owners around the Chain of Lakes and along the Fox river is necessary if the water supply is to be conserved and lake and river levels maintained. It was agreed, when a number of interested representative citizens and property owners from around the lakes and the Fox river met Monday night at McHenry at the offices of the Everett Hunter Boat Co.

Interests Are Mutual

Erroneous stories and reports of propaganda growing out of the controversy over the location of the proposed new dam were responsible for the get-together at McHenry on Monday night, with the result that a very harmonious meeting was held, and it was pointed out and mutually understood by all that the interests of Fox river residents and property owners on the chain of lakes are identical.

The appropriation bill introduced by Representative Weiss provided for the construction of a new $175,000 dam near the point where the chain of lakes empties into the Fox river, and in addition for the sum of $10,000 to be used in repairing the old dam at McHenry to assure the residents along the Fox river an adequate water supply. Those who claim to know conditions along the river and have first-hand knowledge of the condition of the present dam declare the sum of $10,000 is not sufficient to repair it as it should be done.

"We are 100 per cent for the repairing of the McHenry dam, or even the construction of a new dam there to preserve the water levels in the Fox river," said C. K. Anderson, who had been delegated as chief spokesman for the lakes representatives. "And we would not deprive the lakes of their needed water supply," declared Mayor P. W. Frett, who explained that the annual appropriation of $7500 made by the state for the upkeep of the dam for the past four years had never been used, McHenry residents being told at Springfield that the appropriated money was "not available."

But notwithstanding the dilapidated condition of the present dam, residents along the Fox river have never suffered greatly from low water as have property owners around the chain of lakes.

Stories circulated by misinformed persons and newspaper articles to the effect that "the new dam is intended merely for the satisfaction of a few realty promoters" were branded as propaganda by representatives from the lakes Monday night.

"Almost every foot of lake frontage in the entire region has been sold," Robt. C. Abt told the committee. "To seek to flood new areas in order to increase the length of shore line would cause no end of damage suits. What is wanted by lake shore residents is an adequate and dependable water level," declared Mr. Abt, who is thoroughly familiar with conditions around the lakes.

Will Repair Dam

Representatives from the lakes to a man pledged cooperation with McHenry to have the present dam repaired as soon as possible. It is the contention of those who protest the construction of the new dam that the old dam, when properly repaired, will be adequate to raise the lake waters to the desired level.

Mayors to Meet

Mayors of towns along Fox River and the lakes have accepted the invitation of Mayor Frett of McHenry to meet there Sunday, August 28th, to go with him on a tour of inspection along the chain of lakes.

Meanwhile the report of state engineers, who are now making a survey of the region, is being awaited, and all concerned have pledged themselves to work in harmony to remedy the low water conditions.

According to a survey made in June 1926 elevations above sea level in this region were quoted as follows: Antioch, 771 feet; water level of Fox river and the lakes, 736 feet; Cross Lake, 812 feet; Little Silver,

Work On New Factory Building Begun This Week To Be Rushed

Brick work on the new Corona Fountain Pen company factory building being erected here was commenced Monday. R. M. Haynes of Antioch is the contractor and expects to rush the work to completion as rapidly as possible. It is the hope of the company to have the building ready for occupancy early in October.

H. P. Lowry, the plumbing contractor, completed the basement plumbing work last week ready for the erection of the factory and nothing remains to hinder the immediate construction of the building.

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL REGISTRATION DAY IS MONDAY, AUGUST 29

Sessions to Open Day
Following Labor Day.
One New Instructor.

Registration day at the Antioch Township High School will be Monday, August 29th. Juniors and seniors will register in the morning and the sophomores and freshmen in the afternoon. Lockers will also be assigned at the same time.

School will open the first day after Labor Day. There will be no school after noon of the first day.

The subjects taught will be the same as last year. A complete list will be printed in next week's issue of the News. Freshmen will take English, Algebra, and Science with the choice of one from Foods, Latin, or Agriculture. Physical Training will be required of all students unless a physician's certificate advising against it be presented to the Principal.

All Freshmen will be required to present eighth grade diplomas for entrance on registration day. Parents are invited to come to discuss the course.

The faculty will be the same as that of last year with the exception that Miss Rice, a graduate of the University of North Dakota, will replace Miss Hauck, resigned.

With the new building complete and ready for use, Antioch now has one of the finest schools in the state and can look forward to a successful and enjoyable year of work.

Doolittle to Request Large Force of Cops

Request for 14 motorcycle policemen to patrol the roads of Lake county will be made by Sheriff Doolittle at the fall session of the county board, according to recent advice from his office. Officers of this type pay their own way, one booze runner catch alone having netted the county $400 in fines but the money does not go into the coffers of the sheriff's office.

It was admitted by members of the board that the request would not be acceded to by them but that some relief would have to be granted, as the two officers allowed for part of this summer proved entirely insufficient.

RAMSEY WILL SHOW FIGHT FANS THE LAKE REGION FROM THE AIR

Lt. Ramsey's plane will be located near Cedar Crest to take visitors over Tunney's training camp and the region in which it is located. Phil Ramsey is tuning up his big Curtiss biplane and will be on hand to make short trips over the region as well as trips to and fro with distant visitors.

765 feet; Crooked Lake, 767 feet; Deep Lake, 773 feet; Cedar Lake, 790 feet; Loon Lake, 773 feet; present site of the McHenry dam 733 feet.

From this survey it is evident that the dam at McHenry could never be raised to a high enough point to prevent the lowering of the level of the Fox river system by three feet. At the present time, the dam at McHenry has 42 inches of plank on top of the dam. The water level was raised 7 inches by this means, but at the present time is only 4 inches above low water mark, yet water is running over the top.

CHICAGO MAN DROWNS WITH HELP AT HAND

Slips to Death After Clinging to Boat Companion is Rescued.

Ray Butler, 49, of Gunderson road, Chicago, was drowned last Saturday evening near the Blue Lantern at Channel Lake when the rowboat in which he and a companion were riding capsized. Butler, together with a friend, Frank Reichert, of 2913 Wilson Ave., Chicago, had been fishing and the two apparently either did not notice the approach of the motor boat or were inept in turning their boat to meet the waves.

With the overturning of the boat both men clung to it in the hope of being rescued as they were within a short distance of the shore. Butler, however, let go of the boat and his body sank and did not come up again. It was recovered after a short search. Reichert was rescued by nearby swimmers.

A coroner's inquest held Sunday morning at the Strang undertaking parlors here resulted in a verdict of accidental drowning and the body was removed to the Butler home in Chicago. Butler is survived by his wife.

Friends of the deceased were of the opinion that death was due to heart trouble as he was a sufferer from that ailment, and it was thought that the shock resulting from the excitement of the sudden overturning of the boat affected his heart and caused him to relax his grip on the boat.

COUNTY BOARD TO URGE COMPLETION OF PAVEMENT GAP

Local Committees Secure
Action of County
on Route 21.

Temporary improvements have been made on the Lake Villa gap in Route 21, through the efforts of a committee from the Antioch Business club and the village which acted in conjunction with a group from Lake Villa before the county board recently.

The road has since been regressed and resurfaced and sprinkled with calcium chloride to prevent dust.

The board appointed supervisors Barney Naber of Antioch, Frank Stanton of Grant, Harry Stratton of Lake Villa and Ray Paddock of Newport to cooperate with the local committees in an appeal to the state highway department and urge early paving of the gap.

H. Vos, R. C. Abt and James Dunn were members of the local committee to appear before the board.

Lake Villa Postmaster Held to Answer Charge

Postmaster Chas. Sherwood of Lake Villa was arraigned before Justice Hervey Coulson last Tuesday on a charge of criminally attacking Laura Sorenson, 15, of Lake Villa, in his home a week ago. The postal department was represented at the trial by Inspector A. E. Gerner of Chicago who was sent out by the department to gather the facts for the government files.

Members of the Mother's club of Lake Villa were present and Constable Hamlin who was a witness for the state. Sherwood denies the girl's story and claimed that he was not at home at the time the offense was supposed to have been committed.

ANTIOCH MAN GETS POST AS INSTRUCTOR

John Morley, of Antioch, an instructor in high schools for the past six years, was appointed swimming instructor of boys at the Waukegan Township high school at the regular meeting of the board which was held Wednesday afternoon at the office of Secretary John E. Reardon.

BEWARE OF THE DEADLY DOTTED LINE

By W. R. MOREHOUSE
Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association

WITHDRAWING the family's savings account at the bank where it is safe, and losing it through speculation is a serious matter. It may bring great hardship, especially to the mistress of the home. It may force great economies in household management or amount to actual privation. It may mean that the children will have to go to work before they complete their education. The loss of the family's accumulations may even result in physical breakdown on the part of the wife through worry over the loss of savings which she helped to accumulate at the sacrifice of home comforts, but was not consulted when it came to investing them. The making of investments by men who are heads of families and inexperienced in finance should not be undertaken without consulting her. But even if both agree the venture should be talked over with the local banker or information about it obtained from the National Better Business Bureau in New York, which serves without cost and purely in the public interest. If this is done a lot of trouble and quite likely many regrets and heartaches will be avoided.

There is one point in the activities of the inexperienced investor where he should have above all a red-light stop signal to cause him to pause and investigate and that is just before he reaches the decision to "sign on the dotted line." Before you part with your savings in the bank by signing a contract placed before you by sharp promoters, stop, examine and investigate! It will pay to read the contract several times, even reading it aloud, all the while weighing every term. It will pay to be on guard against the deadly fine print usually incorporated in most contracts, so small that it strains your eyes and causes you to skim over it superficially. Do not sign blindfolded. It will pay well to take plenty of time to study the contract by yourself where all is quiet and you are free from the personal influence of the persuasive promoter, for to sign without the calmest consideration may spell your Waterloo financially.

Unless dealing with a responsible firm or individual, never sign on the dotted line. If in the least doubt, don't sign. Never sign on verbal assurances that you are fully protected. Terms stated orally but not incorporated in a contract are not binding. Glowing promises, wild exaggerations and gross misstatements of facts are seldom reduced to writing or made in the presence of your witnesses. Your failure to read and to understand a contract before signing is not a legal excuse. When you sign a contract you proclaim that you agree with its terms and will abide by and endeavor to carry them out.

Don't sign just because some high-pressure salesman tells you that you are a scoundrel, or that you show good judgment, or that you have a lot of sense. Sign only when you are fully convinced that your interests are fully protected.

Prominent Men Used as Scenery
A number of slick promoters recently organized in a certain city an "automobile club" with the assurance

Governors was organized with the names of prominent local citizens, among them two eminent judges. No sooner was the organization of the board complete than the promoters, armed with the endorsement of these outstanding men, went forth to reap a great harvest by selling memberships. They got the members—but the building of the garages remained an idle dream.

When the members of the Board of Governors were later interviewed as to how they came to consent to the use of their names they stated that they thought the additional storage facilities were needed in the downtown district and they signed up without looking into the proposition carefully. Imagine their chagrin when told that a reading of the by-laws of the organization showed that the Board of Governors had no powers but had been used merely as scenery in order to sell memberships in a fake proposition!

Because these prominent citizens were careless with their names and failed to read and to investigate the enterprise, hundreds of business men bought memberships only to lose their money. Signing without reading is about the most dangerous act of financial carelessness that can be committed.

THE STORY

CHAPTER I.—From the comfortable financial situation to which he had been born, Peter Milman, American gentleman of the old school, and last of his family, is practically reduced to poverty through the misfortune of a friend, Haxton Brewer, whom he had lawfully trusted.

CHAPTER II.—Learning of Brewer's fields, which means the destruction of his last hope, Milman engages a French tutor, Achilles Luty, who speaks no English, and is to replace Sneed, servant of long standing. By Luty, Milman sends letters to Prof. Fleming Bradley, Floyd Malet and Neeland Barnes, men whom the world has looked on as failures, once of high position. In response, the three call on him at his home.

CHAPTER III.—After an excellent dinner Milman ushers his guests into his Japanese garden, where, after each has related the circumstances which wrecked their careers, he convinces them their misfortunes are directly traceable to the machinations of an unseen, unscrupulous enemy, a man who had risen to high financial position and political power by underhand methods, chiefly blackmail. Paul Haxton, Reason also ruined Brewer, and incidentally Milman.

CHAPTER IV

When midnight was passed and the four men very comfortably seated about the fire, Neeland Barnes began to think there was to be no unmasking of his past. In a sense he was glad. These two men whom he had begun by despising seemed, after all, to have cut considerable figures once. Barnes was a shrewd judge of men. He thought that they had spoken only the truth. The big man with the eager, gray eyes was most certainly no grifter. And as to the other, Barnes recalled his case well now it was brought to his notice. He had sneered at the sculptor's odd defense and believed it with most men about town a very poor excuse. But now he believed absolutely in Floyd Malet's integrity. In comparison, Neeland Barnes, professional man-of-the-world, felt rather a poor specimen.

"We now come," said Milman, breaking in on his reflections, "to the case of Mr. Neeland Barnes."

Mr. Neeland Barnes frowned inwardly. Externally he was urbane and gracious.

"Shearing the black sheep," he said. "A lesson to all young men. How not to live."

"Mr. Barnes," said Peter Milman, "is not so complex a type as his fellow-guests. He aimed at physical attributes rather than intellectual or artistic achievements. And he succeeded just as they did. I doubt if there is an American living who excelled in certain phases of sport as Mr. Barnes did."

"He was a man who might have passed a blameless life had his money lasted. There came a time when his relatives would not help and his horses could not win races. Finally, he was accused of some trickery at Saratoga and found his racing career at an end. Since then he has been living insecurely on what his few remaining relatives choose to give him."

"Mr. Milman," Barnes said, and there was a certain dignity in his bearing. "I have been almost every sort of a fool in my day. I have thrown away fortunes and gambled and drunk like a madman, but I never pulled any dirty tricks on a race track. I was always out to win and never betted against my own horses. I'm not what you might call a reliable man, and I've done things I'm heartily ashamed of now, but I did not do what the Saratoga stewards believed of me."

"What did they believe?" Bradley demanded. He knew nothing of racing. "My trainer gave evidence before them that I instructed him to dope my entry for the Saratoga cup so that I might bet on another horse. Mine was the favorite. It did go to the post full of bromide, and the horse I was reputed to have bet on won at long odds. I had the trainer against me and the bookmaker, and, because I was known to be in monetary difficulties, I was disbelieved. Not that I blame the stewards. They did their duty as they saw it. Somebody fixed my trainer and the jockey. I was forced out of the racing game, and found I hadn't a friend in the world. My wife would have believed me, but she was dead. I need what money I could get hold of to fight the thing, but the man, or men, who framed me had more money. I shall never know who it was."

"I know," said Peter Milman quietly. "You were not framed, as you term it, by any crooked owner of thoroughbreds. None of them was big enough to pull down a man of your sort. You had traditions and a name behind you. Your downfall came because you threw a man from the pier at Narragansett into the Atlantic ocean. Do you remember?"

"Yes," Barnes said slowly. "I think I do. There was a woman mixed up in it, but I forget her name now. She was one of those little fluff blondes that were fashionable that season. Ah, I have it. She was a roof-garden star,

A man came up, and tried to make a scene. My Aunt Sarah, who was most particular, was coming toward us. The thing would have been most disastrous because I had turned over a new leaf the previous evening and a codfish was to be added to her will. Fortunately, the man struck at me, and I thought the simplest way out of it was to drop him in the sea. Aunt Sarah, being short-sighted, did not even see him disappear." Mr. Barnes mused on the thing for a few moments. "Most extraordinary. I never saw him again. There was no summons, no publicity—nothing. I was a bit uneasy at first lest he should have been drowned, but somebody saw him crawl ashore. I never knew his name, and I never saw the blonde again."

"The man you threw into the water was the man who arranged matters so that you should be compelled to give up racing." There was a trace of triumph in Mr. Milman's manner. "You will never be able to prove it, so don't try."

"And I hoped he didn't drown," said Barnes, looking about for sympathy. "What's his name?" Barnes did not doubt his host's sincerity for a moment.

"All in good time," said Milman; "first let me show you his photograph." He unlocked a drawer and took the picture from an envelope. "Is that he?"

"As I remember it, yes," said Barnes; "but it's years ago, and there might be a possibility of error."

Milman passed the photograph to Floyd Malet.

"Do you recognize him?" There was excitement in the sculptor's voice. "It's the man with the fur coat who came to my studio that night. This is the man, I'll swear. What's his name?"

"That is the man to whom you all owe your misfortunes—Paul Haxton." It was a thin, narrow face that stared back at them, but it was not the face of a fool. Few men without the early advantage of financial training had impressed themselves on Way Street as he had done. The collapse of International Motors and the failure of the Haxton Brewer crowd to break him made Haxton for the moment the most spectacular figure in New York. And yet none of Milman's guests had ever before seen a photograph of him. He had a knack of outwitting the newspaper photographers.

He had smashed many cameras. It had come to be understood that to attempt to photograph him was to incur the enmity of a man who never forgave or forgot.

"That he broke Professor Bradley was a precautionary measure and not born of any personal malice. No doubt his subordinates had found the professor was not rich and supposed him ripe for the fall. There is hardly a doubt that he has made enormous amounts by these methods, always covering himself with hopelessly compromised lesser men who dared say nothing. As to Mr. Malet, that was merely bad luck and not in the first design. I don't suppose Haxton had anything personal against him, but he recognized the opportunity to escape from a troublesome position. The only purely personal spite was in the case of Mr. Neeland Barnes. Haxton was intending to buy a big house at Narragansett and entertain largely."

"I don't remember the name there," said Barnes.

"He left the pier," Milman answered. "Haxton is curiously sensitive to ridicule. He could not remain to be pointed out as the man Neeland Barnes had contemptuously tossed into the ocean. It took him several years to get his revenge, but it was a complete one. He boasts that he never lets up, and ascribes Indian ancestry to this unimpeachable quality. His most spectacular hatred was that my poor friend Haxton Brewer incurred."

"Brewer committed suicide because he had plunked into penury a man who was near and dear to him. This was a man unused to finance, who trusted Haxton with his fortune and mortgaged his home in a vain effort to save his friend. Brewer felt disgraced. I think this emotion was far more potent than the fact of his financial collapse. He did not know that his friend harbored no hard thoughts of him and would have made no complaints. After all, the friend's loss was very little compared with his downfall."

Fleming Bradley, perhaps the closest observer of Milman's guests, was becoming possessed with a vast impatience to know for what reason he had been summoned. Bradley had the analytical mind of the scientist. There were several things in Milman's narrative which needed elucidation.

"Why," he asked suddenly, "did you subscribe to a press-clipping agency and put a detective on Haxton's track?"

"Because I had learned through a source entirely confidential that it was Haxton who had ruined Mr. Malet. I was interested in Mr. Malet. I think that marble group proves it. And I have said I was interested in your work too. If it had been possible to clear you, I should like to have done so. I am not sure there was not something of childish vanity in it. I liked to sit here in my lonely, unvisited house and feel I was learning day by day, hour by hour, more about a man who believed himself above the law and building up this knowledge into a weapon against him. But I found he was so secure as to be able to boast of things that no legal evidence could charge him with. Neeland Barnes, for example. A few hundreds spent in bribery, or a few promises dropped as to future patronage, and the thing was accomplished.

"All you have done," said Bradley, who was suddenly assailed with doubts as to Milman's ultimate purpose, "is to get us here and show us what failures we are. That is not kind, unless you have a remedy. Don't you see it puts us in a very poor light? A man may fail and still have self-respect left. I decline to consider myself a black sheep. You tell me Haxton ruined my career. I shall make a point of seeing the editors of all the great New York papers and telling them what you have said. Too long a certain type of man has ruled our cities in the name of democracy."

There was no doubt now about Peter Milman's uneasiness as he listened. "I thought you understood," he said quietly, "that this conversation was privileged. If you go to your editors you will do two things: One will be to convince them that you have brooded so long on your troubles that you are mad. The other will be to disclose the confidences a dead man gave me."

"But you want me to give up the only chance I may ever have of clearing my name," Bradley complained.

"You can never clear it that way. I don't think you can ever hope to defeat Paul Haxton that way." His tone changed a little. "Tell me this Mr. Bradley. Which counts more with you: the clearing of your name of suspicion of dishonesty—not actual conviction of it, remember, for your case never came before a court of law—or the opportunity to devote your life to your chosen science?"

"The latter, of course," Bradley cried. "It is only if I establish my innocence that I can hope to get another appointment. Such work as mine is very costly. I must have large funds at my disposal and elaborate equipment."

"And you?" Milburn said, turning to the sculptor.

EXTRA DRY

SHELL MOTOR OIL

SHELL GASOLINE

FOR LESS CARBON

Use both SHELL Gasoline and Motor Oil

The sensible way to deal with carbon is to correct the probable source of the condition... unsuitable gasoline and motor oil. If the gasoline you use contains "heavy ends" (greasy particles that seep past the piston unburned and dilute the crankcase oil) carbon is bound to form. If the motor oil lacks natural lubricating qualities and contains excess carbon, it will inevitably deposit excess carbon under engine heat.

By the exclusive use of Shell 400 "Extra Dry" Gasoline and Golden Clear Shell Motor Oil you can practically eliminate carbon troubles. Shell Gasoline is refined to 400° end point and is extra dry, free from slow-burning elements which dilute the crankcase oil. Shell Motor Oil is golden clear... contains almost no carbon and accordingly deposits almost none.

However, to use Shell Gasoline alone is not enough... incorrect motor oil will dissipate its extra power. To use Shell Motor Oil alone is not enough... poor gasoline will quickly dilute it and break down its lubricating abilities. (But the anti-carbon combination... Shell Gasoline and Shell Motor Oil... were made to go together... to work together in perfect harmony. Used together they bring out the best in your car and always deliver the utmost in speed, power and silent smoothness.

Why take chances with your car? Why run the risk of trouble, damage, repair bills and untimely depreciation... when the anti-carbon combination... 400 "Extra Dry" Shell Gasoline and Golden Clear Shell Motor Oil... are so conveniently available at Shell Yellow-Red Service Stations and Shell dealers everywhere?

HAPPENINGS OF WEEK IN NEARBY TOWNS

Waukegan is to have a new golf course for women to be located north of and near to the Bonnie look club and to be known as the Woman's Country club.

The village of Harrington has placed a ban on the erection of large sign boards for advertising purposes. It is hoped that under the zoning act properly leased for foreign signs can be controlled through the building permit ordinance.

A jolly alligator two feet long and with capacious jaws and a hearty grin tried to be the companion of some small boys in Hawthorne lake last week. They left the lake rather precipitately, upon spying him. Several alligators were brought to the region this spring by tourists returning from Florida and it is thought that this one either made his escape or someone grew tired of caring for their pet and gave him his freedom. At any rate he is likely to have Hawthorne lake to himself as long as he is at large.

The English game of Cricket has a group of devotees this season in Lake Forest. The Lake Forest Cricket club has already played teams from a widely scattered area and has been in the main successful. The game ends with the kind of score that old timers who recall the good old days in baseball should appreciate.

Tuberculosis eradication results just compiled for the month of July in McHenry county showed only 3% reactors throughout that county.

Second Annual Field Day of Channel Lake C. C. Is Huge Success

The Second Annual Field Day of the Channel Lake Country club was held Saturday afternoon, August 6, with fine weather, big crowds, fine prizes, good contests and much interest everywhere in evidence.

The feature of the day was a 19 inning ball game, which ended finally in a 5 to 4 score. Fine pitching on both sides combined with good ball playing made the hits very scarce, and held the score down for a long and exciting game. Much of the success was due to the captain, Chuck Thomas, whose team finally won, and Gray Phelps. Each kept the members of his team on their toes, working as though a million dollars depended on the outcome rather than a silver trophy played for annually. It was rumored that big league scouts were, or at least should have been in the crowd looking over the prospects.

Lemonade and doughnuts served to all much a fit and the contests—running races, necktie races, pie eating contests, sack races, potato races and nail driving races provided prizes or all in abundance. Non-contestants as well as those competing had equal chances also to get fine prizes, a tire and tube, electric cooker, set of flour and many other prizes going to lucky individuals in the crowd. Everything was free, all of the prizes and gifts being donated by the Antioch merchants and club members.

This was the second of the annual field days held by the club and the committee expressed themselves as well pleased with the cooperation and generosity of all who helped make the celebration possible. An effort is to be made next year to find a day when all Antioch people can come without seriously interfering with their business.

St. Ignatius' Church Notes Episcopal

Kalendar
10th Sunday after Trinity.
9:30 Church School.
10:00 Matins and Sermon.
Next Sunday the subject will be "Faith." It is hoped that many will prepare in this matter.

The Church School will open formally the first Sunday after Labor Day. The subjects to be studied by the various groups during the year 1927-28 are as follows:

Primary—Age 6, 7, 8 and 9—The Child of God in Days of Old. Aim—To show from examples of those who lived years ago how the Child of God should live in God's Family.

Beginner's Dept.—Age 4 and 5. Topic—God's care of us. Aim—To lead the child to trust in God because He cares for us.

Junior Dept.—Ages 10, 11, 12, and 13. Topic—Some Followers of Jesus Christ. Aim—To lead the pupils to follow the Lord Jesus as a great adventure, using the stories in the Book of Acts as illustrations of what the quest involves.

Senior Dept. High School. Topic—The Preparation of the World for the Advent of Jesus Christ. Aim—To show how the history of the Hebrews prepared for the coming of Christ.

Home Dept. Topic—Studies in the Life of Jesus. Aim—To show from the life and teachings of Jesus in the New Testament what His disciples should believe and do. The Home department is for those who are unable to attend Church and further information may be secured by those wishing to take advantage of the offer from the Pastor.

St. Ignatius' church stands for the full and complete Gospel of Jesus Christ as expressed in the Historic Nicene and Apostles' Creed. We have never varied from side to side through the ages from what Jesus taught. Would you be interested in a Faith or a Church like that? "Is it nothing to you that pass by?"

Farm Bureau Moves Offices to Grayslake

The office of County Adviser J. A. Gilkerson of the Lake County Farm Bureau was moved last week from Libertyville to Grayslake where the organization will occupy a building being prepared for it by the business men of that community.

The Farm Bureau office has been located in Libertyville since its organization twelve years ago. The moving of the office was brought about largely by two conditions. First, the fact that a large part of the territory around Libertyville, and to the south and east, has ceased to be used for farming led the committee to feel that the new location would be more accessible to most of the members. Also the high rents in Libertyville have made it necessary to sub-rent part of the office. The board feels that the office will be of more value to the farmers if other interests are not located in the same room.

The office consists of a two story building. The first floor will be used for the main office, a private office, and a rest room with rooms in the rear for storing supplies. The large room on the second floor will be ideal for larger gatherings. With these larger quarters there will be a private office where the members may talk over their problems confidentially with the farm adviser. In addition to this plans are being made for a ladies rest room. It is hoped that the farmers and their families will make the office their headquarters whenever possible and will make the fullest use of their organization.

Antioch Palace Contests Amuse

Five couples competed as contestants for the silver loving cup offered by the Antioch Palace last week in the fox trot contest.

Antioch was well represented among the dancers and the judges, Jas. Willard, Evelyn Breske and Hans Johnson made a unanimous choice of the Woodward and Gladys Davis as first. Other couples who entered the race were George Cermak and Violet Schubert, Frank Kral and Vera Smith, Mr. and Mrs. John Shaffer, and Russell and Esther Barthel.

In the third preliminary of the Derby held Wednesday night the judges, Vincent Dupre of Antioch, Edward Cook of Kentworth, and John Colby of Libertyville, awarded the honors to W. Nagle and Gladys Davis, Wm. Madsen and Mary Gallagher, Norman Ring and Leona Bloom, and Clarence Miller and Jennie Nickerson, in the order named.

In the fox trot contest held Thursday, August 11th, the loving cups were awarded to George Cermak and Edna Verrier.

LOCALS DROP LOOSE GAME TO FORRESTERS

Heavy Slugging on Both Sides and Many Errors on Part of Antioch Feature Game.

The Antioch Baseball team lost a hard fought contest to the rampart Waukegan Forresters, Sunday with a score of 14 to 7. The defeat dropped the locals from their third place in the Lake County League (which they have held nearly all season) to a three way tie for 4th position. It was the 4th straight win for the visitors and advanced them into 3rd place.

The game was a pitchers' battle for five innings, between G. Hedden, the crack hurler of the visitors' staff and W. Steininger, who holds the record of the best pitched game this year, but the Antioch star was driven to cover in the sixth and Morley and Drom who finished were hit hard; and the hits, coupled with a lot of infield errors, turned the game into a farce. Hedden was also given a touch of high life in the 8th when singles by Laseo, Morley, and Urdanger, walks to Drom and W. Steininger and a couple of errors gave the locals 5 runs and put their back in the game. But the visiting sluggers came back with another batch of fire and clinched the contest.

Jackie and R. Hedden at bat with three hits each and Sears and McKillen in the field featured for Waukegan, while Morley and Hardin with 2 hits and a walk each were the features of the local play.

Next Sunday Antioch will play the crack John's Manville Fireaters of Waukegan. Antioch defeated them in an 8 to 7 thriller earlier in the season but the Fireaters have been playing great ball lately and a good game seems assured. The leading of the Antioch team has been very ragged for the last two games at a couple of practice sessions would hit a winning streak again.
